

Zeigler To Play At Student Body Dance

S.J. State Symphony Gives First Concert Of Year Next Week

FREE CONCERT WILL BE PRESENTED ON NEXT TUESDAY

The initial concert of the season of the San Jose State College symphony orchestra will be given Tuesday evening, December 6, in the Morris Dailey auditorium. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock, and will be conducted by Adolf Otterstein, head of the college music department. Mr. Kalas will conduct the orchestra through the melodic strains of the Strauss waltzes, "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

Violin Soloist

Doris Kinne, senior music major, and prominent in musical affairs of the college, will play the "Symphonie Espagnole" by Edouard Lalo. Two members of the faculty will be included in the orchestra, which this year numbers one hundred players. Raymond Miller, new faculty member, and a French horn player of repute.

Bazaar Held Wednesday Proves Successful

Even the decorations were bought off the walls at the Russian Bazaar held Wednesday by the Art department. Over $100 was taken in through the sale of Christmas cards and gifts. Much of the money also came from various concessions and the Sky-light Club's dance.

The money derived from the bazaar will be used for an Art student loan fund which is for immediate use. The success of this bazaar, the first to be held, sets a precedent, and heads of the department announced that it would be an annual affair. It was initiated by Sigma Tau, honorary upper division organization, but the work was carried out by

AN APOLOGY

I wish to apologize to Hale Vagts for the adjectives that were used after his name in "Webster to the Rescue" in yesterday's issue of the Times. Through negligence I failed to read the copy for the column, and as a result, an incorrect and uncomplimentary meaning could be read into the article.

DR. ADOLF OTTERSTEIN

Arthur Lack Will Play Today for Students at Musical Half-Hour

Friday, December 2, at 12:30, in the Morris Dailey auditorium, Arthur Lack, violinist, will present the program for the Musical Half-Hour. He will be accompanied by Dean Keesler.

Arthur Lack is one of the best violinists on the campus, and will also have a good accompanist, Dean Keesler.

The program is as follows:

1. Melody Stojonski
2. Canonette Godard Op. 35
3. Caprice Viennais Kreiser Op. 2
4. Walther's Prieslied, "Die Meistersinger" Wagner
5. Tambourin Chimes Kreiser Op. 3

Mathematic Majors Are Entertained Wednesday

The newly conceived organization of Mathematic Majors, under the capable direction of Mr. Minszen, held their first meeting on Wednesday noon. The meeting was preceded by a luncheon. After introductions were made, plans for a more stable organization were discussed. It was decided to hold a noon meeting about every three weeks. All mathematics majors are invited to attend the next meeting, which will be held after the beginning of next quarter, the date to be announced later.

Saturday's Dance Will Be Last of Quarter's Series

DICK SANDERS PROMISES BEST DANCE OF FALL QUARTER

The last of the student body dances is scheduled for this coming Saturday night and many of the boys are sighing with relief at the thought of not putting out any cash for a bid this week-end. The student affairs committee, with Dick Sanders at the head, are planning to make this last dance the best of the season, and it is sure to be crowded, so come early, is the slogan for the evening.

The dance will close the season as far as students affairs is concerned, although the Freshman ball, scheduled for December the tenth, will be the last dance actually given under any school or class sponsoring. This ball is the semi-formal dance sponsored by the freshman class and this year it promises to be the most original and in all ways the most complete ever given. Bids are going fast and the sale of them will close next Thursday if not before.

Sam Zeigler plays at the next Saturday night dance, and all those who have heard him will relish the thought of dancing to his excellent music once again. The dance is to be held in the Men's Gym, on the new floor. Dancing begins at nine o'clock, and the dance is over promptly at one.

Santa Clara University and State To Debate on War Debt Tonight

"Should the United States Cancel Its War Debts?" Come tonight to the big forensic tussle between State and the University of Santa Clara and find out.

The subject, one of timely interest, has a great appeal for audiences. The men upholding the affirmative of the question from San Jose State College are: Tom Needham, Joel Carter, and Charles Pinkham. The opposing Philhistorians are: Louis Pasquelli, Patrick Hannon, and Fred Burton.

Excellent Preparation

Men from both schools have been working unceasingly on this debate which promises to be an outstanding event of the season. And there will undoubtedly be much future argument pro and con on the subject. Every student at State should be vitally interested in it.

Clarence Naas Will Edit College Times For Winter Quarter

CLARENCE NAAS

Frank Hamilton Edits Times for Freshmen During Coming Week

The Freshman class, as a result of a unanimous vote, will conduct the publication of next Friday's edition of the Times, aided, if needed, by members of the regular staff.

At orientation, Frank Hamilton, acting editor; Earl Pomeroy, Louise Winans, Dan Feeley, and Leonard Blaikie were elected to choose the staff for the paper, and to decide upon the policy and material to be used.

The paper will be green, and will not only give the Freshmen a chance to demonstrate their ability as newspaper men, but will also be excellent advertising for the Freshman Ball, which will be held the following evening.

Neil Thomas to Lead Meeting for L. I. D.

L. I. D. met last Monday and was entertained by an enlightening talk on Lakoya Institute of Pacific Relations by Miss Lois Larry.

Mr. Neil Thomas is to personally conduct a tour through the Edwin Markham Home next Monday, December 5th, at 12:15 p. m., from Room 1, Home-Making building. He will show the room in which Mr. Markham wrote "The Man With the Hoe," and many of Mr. Markham's personal effects.

All members, friends, and visitors are welcome. The more, the merrier!

HAS BEEN SPORTS EDITOR
AND MANAGING EDITOR

Clarence Naas, sports editor of the Times during the past quarter and managing editor for two previous quarters, was appointed editor of the Times for the winter quarter by the Publication Board last evening.

It is rare in the annals of college newspapers that a man with such journalistic experience is available, and for the first time in years only one man was considered for the coveted position of editor.

During his high school years, Clarence, at one time or another, held every position on the San Jose High School Herald, and was editor at the time when it was judged the best paper in Northern California.

Naas has been a member of the varsity tennis team for two years, and is a member of Spartan Knights, S. G. O., and the Press Club.

The first paper under the new editor will be published the first day of next quarter.

Dr. Holiday Speaks To Frosh At Orientation

Freshman Orientation, held Thursday morning, was marked by several events of major importance.

After the meeting had been opened by Charles Gubser, president, Dan Feeley, vice president, took charge, and introduced several students who had announcements to make.

Most important among these was the announcement by Dick Sanders asking whether the class wished to put out an edition of the Times. The suggestion was adopted, and a group of freshman students were elected to determine what was to be done.

Miss Ann Aalfs, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., explained the function and purpose of the "Y," and

Bachrodt Claims College Is San Jose's Greatest Economic Asset

"San Jose State College is San Jose's best economic asset," stated Walter Bachrodt, City Superintendent of Public Instruction, speaking at the Rotary Club banquet Tuesday, with the State football men as guests.

"The local college has a total enrollment of 2649, 1164 of whom are San Joseans; 608 commuters and 877 outsiders who live here to attend the school," he explained.

"It employs 193 people as instructors and for other purposes. The school has a budget of $400,000, which is received from the state. In addition it receives $171,000 for the junior college budget, $22,000 of which comes from the people in this junior college district.

"The monetary value of the school to the community is conservatively estimated at more than $1,521,000."

Economy Cause of Present Educational Drop

According to an article in the "National Educational Journal," education in the United States is suffering because of a prevalent disease once known as miserliness now called economy.

The author of the article insinuates that the lack of facilities for the care of children of grammar school age, both in the classroom and out of it, is leading to a lower and more lax tone of morality. He is evidently of the opinion that children, unmolested by lazy parents with their minds set upon scrimping and underpaid teachers and unsupported moral agencies, are going down the primrose path, so cursed of prelates, to the tune of crime and the devil.

Be that as it may, it is certainly true that educational appropriations have been cut and the result of the clipping has been scarcely satisfactory. It behooves us, then, to be aware of further pruning and to array ourselves against them.

PRACTICAL INSTRUCTION WILL BE GIVEN NEW COOKS

The latest wrinkle in higher education are men's cooking classes, especially designed for boys who are far from home and preparing their own meals. The first of these will be held December 7 in Room 8 of the Home-Making building, at 7:30 p. m. The last one this quarter will be on December 7. This innovation, started by Dean of Men Charles Goddard, will become a regular feature next term.

The instructions will be entirely of a practical nature and are open only to men.

The highlight of the meeting was, however, the talk given by Dr. Holliday on college life through ages. Dr. Holliday, who has not only a reputation for his many literary accomplishments, but is also noted for his wit, spoke pithily and humorously of the advance of learning since Roman times. The freshman were immensely entertained by his humorous citations on the origin of some of our most common terms, and his candid agreement with the saying that education is its own excuse to be.

Spartans Await Final O K On Game In Hawaii

MacDonald Expects Hard Battle from Conference Teams

BASKETBALL CONTEST TO BE WITNESSED ON DECEMBER 27

By Adam Vagts

San Jose basketball fans may be treated to another intersectional athletic contest if financial matters can be arranged in a game pending with Davis-Elkins University of West Virginia on December 27th. The Southerners are barnstorming the western states at that time.

Although the first definite game date is set for January 7th, when Menlo J. C. plays at San Jose, it is probable that games during the Christmas intermission will be played with Marin, Sacramento, Southern Oregon Normal, and possibly the University of Oregon.

Although early season predictions for the coming season were not for the best, Coach MacDonald has rapidly moulded into shape a formidable squad and the workout with Stanford showed the Spartans looming as a potential power in the 1932 F. W. C. race.

The squad practiced regularly through the recent vacation and on one occasion Coach "Mac" himself put on a suit and showed the boys how the guard end of the game should be taken care of.

The present squad of about 20 men will be bolstered up by new arrivals from the disbanded football squad who promise to cause the men already on the team a fight to keep their positions.

Spartans Entertained by Rotarians Wednesday

Coach "Dud" DeGroot and his victorious Spartans were guests Wednesday at the Rotary Club luncheon in the dining room of the Hotel Sainte Claire. The twenty-six football men were entertained and reciprocated by providing some entertainment themselves with singing of college songs.

Delos Wolfe, halfback on the team, contributed two banjo selections.

The value of the State college to San Jose in terms of dollars and cents was described by Walter L.

The Rock of Gibraltar

Melvin Hornbeck, stellar Spartan guard, who has been a virtual "Rock of Gibraltar" in the line for Coach DeGroot this year. Mel was a star on Dud's championship team at Menlo, and his previous training was received at San Jose High School.

Bachrodt, city superintendent of schools, and program chairman.

Grid Coach Speaks

Coach DeGroot explained the costs of maintaining a football team at the school and explained that the athletic department and its program is directly under the supervision of the administration of the college.

He urged Rotarians to support the school in all its activities.

Members of the football squad and managerial staff were introduced as follows: Ray Arjo, Charles Baracchi, Fred Bennett, Bill Burt, Keith Carmichael, Bart Collins, Jim Francis, Harry Latta, Mel Hornbeck, Wes Hubbard, Roger Moore, "Moose" Buchler,

Spartan Spasms

By Murdock and Bishop

After checking over last year's varsity basketball roster, we find that only five of the twelve men who were carried as regulars are available this year. They are:—

Captain Norm Countryman—With a background of experience laid in three seasons of competition with Spartan cage squads, Norm has given promise of being one of the main cogs in this year's quintet. He is one of the three men on the team now who were members of the squad when Messrs. Kalas, Goodell, Fowler, Vagts, and Kerchan romped to the Conference championship in 1931. Last year he alternated with Olsen at forward.

"Skinny" Mathieson—Another veteran of the '31 and '32 campaigns who is winding up his career this year. Skinny alternated with Paul Rea at center last year, and his height should stand him in good stead this season.

Cecil George—The third of the trio from the '31 squad. "Ces" performs at guard, where he saw considerable service last season as a substitute. This year he has been hampered somewhat by a bad wrist, the result of the first Stanford scrimmage three weeks ago.

Paul Rea—One of the freshmen who broke into the varsity picture last year. His play, particularly in the first Pacific game, won him the right of alternating with Mathieson at center.

"Hank" Leibbrandt—Another freshman who won his letter last year. Playing at a guard position, "Hank" saw action in most of the contests as a substitute.

It appears as if the 1933 five will be built around these lone five veterans.

We hope that Sammy Filice's famous ankle heals so that he can perform on the baseball diamond with his customary gusto next spring.

We wish that the downtown papers had printed pictures of a lot of the first string football men who were important factors in the season's success and yet got so much as a snapshot to help familiarize the public with their handsome faces. Into this

DeGroot Signifies Desire To Take On Island Grid Teams

PROSPECTIVE CONTEST TO TAKE PLACE IN HONOLULU

An intersectional contest between the University of Hawaii and San Jose State is "hanging in the air" pending a decision of island officials inviting the Spartans to play in Honolulu during the Christmas holidays.

This was revealed in San Francisco yesterday, as the Weber College squad that played here last Saturday sailed for Hawaii.

To Suggest S. J.

When the Weberites arrive on the island, one of the first actions of the officials will be to suggest to the University of Hawaii authorities that they invite San Jose State for a holiday game this season.

According to Al. Warden with the Weber aggregation, the Hawaiian institution had requested Weber earlier in the season to line up a Pacific coast team for a game. Weber's suggestion, therefore, is understood to be the first word with Hawaii, and inasmuch as they have already assured Coach DeGroot that they will recommend San Jose State, it seems that the Spartans stand a very good chance of being invited.

Spartans Will Accept

Coach DeGroot intimated that he would accept the invitation if it were extended. Final word is expected late this week.

The Spartan football squad is maintaining light training conditions, so that they will be in perfect shape if the game is "on."

Sophs Win from Frosh in Speedball Tourney

Wallowing about in a sea of mud, Wednesday afternoon, the Sophomores walloped the Freshman "B" team 2-0, while the Frosh "A" team scored at 10-0 against the Seniors, taking the game 8-0.

The Sophs should have scored many more points as they outnumbered the lower classmen. They play regardless of the weather. It should be stressed that the class members show up when they are scheduled to play.

Showing superiority to the team on the field, the Frosh "A" team, with some classy teamwork, crossed the Senior goal six times during the half hour. They will have to be some great players to stop those freshmen.

The next games will be played next Monday. The Frosh "B" squad will take on the Frosh "A" team at 4:00 p. m. At 4:30 p. m. the Juniors will meet the Sophs. The Seniors draw a category fall Baracchi, Buchler, Sandholt, and Embury, that can think of off-hand.
